Most encyclopedias are arranged according to philosopher such as Aquinas, Kant, Marx, or by division of philosophy such as aesthetics, or logic. Others are arranged by school of philosophy such as Epicureanism, or Zen. Some are arranged by concepts, ideas and theories such as justice, number or rationalism. But NONE offer a comprehensive list of entries about the ideas women philosophers have developed. The Encyclopedia of Concise Concepts by Women Philosophers is unique.

TRANSLATIONS

History of Women Philosophers
and Scientists

The team responsible for the Portuguese translation of the ECC articles consists of Dr. Katarina Peixoto, Dr. Pedro Prikladnitzky and Professor Edgar Marques. Starting in summer 2019, Dr. Peixoto and her colleagues not only translate but also enrich the ECC with the production of entries about Brazilian women. This new International Cooperation between the Federal Universities of Rio de Janeiro (Brazil) and the University of Paderborn has just been concluded and we expect it to contribute greatly to the research on the history of women philosophers.

DARIAH-DE DH-Award 2018

The Team of the Centers Project The Encyclopedia of Concise Concepts by Women Philosophers (ECC) received the DARIAH-DE DH-Award 2018, "Tools and Projects".

DARIAH-DE is the German contribution to the European research association DARIAH-EU – Digital Research Infrastructure for the Arts and Humanities. DARIAH-DE develops a digital research infrastructure for tools and research data and supports the Arts and Humanities working with digital resources and methods in the Digital Humanities (DH). In order to create lively research networks, digital humanities need an active and forward-looking promotion of future generations. The DARIAH-DE DH-Award from DARIAH-DE supports and encourages students and young scientists in their research, in particular projects that already work and conduct interdisciplinary research. In 2018 the DARIAH-DE DH-Award was presented in the two categories: the DARIAH-DE DH-Award 2018 „Tools and Projects“, which honors innovative projects and tools in the Digital Humanities, and the DARIAH-DE DH-Award 2018 „Studies and concepts“, which focuses on studies or concepts in the DH. The DARIAH-DE DH-Award 2018 “Tools and Projects” was given to the Team of the Encyclopedia of Concise Concepts by Women Philosophers (ECC) at the DARIAH-DE Grand Tour 2018 in Darmstadt.
